

A photograph showing a protest scene in Cairo, Egypt. In the foreground, a large fire burns brightly, with thick black smoke rising into the air. To the right, a billboard displays a portrait of a man in a suit, likely a political figure. The background features palm trees and modern buildings under a clear sky.

.| |